1. Is it possible to review the existing drainage study?
  - a. Response: Drainage study has been posted to the website.

2. The proposal states that the work will go through 49th Street intersection but does it start on the south side of 43rd Street or does it include the entire 43rd Street intersection? Also I am wondering which manholes are planned to be replaced?
  - a. Response: The actual construction project limits will be decided after the selection process takes place. The logical termini for this project is 43rd Street to 49th Street. At this time, consultant should assume both intersections will be included in the design.
  - b. Response: The scope includes generally five manholes to be replaced. The manholes are been inspected and reviewed so the actual locations are not known at this time.

3. Are interview dates able to move around?
  - a. Response: Yes, if there is a conflict the consultant has it is possible to suggest a different date.
